Keep Your Clinic Moving

CareBoards™ can notify staff members when patients have arrived, which doctor has the next appointment, and which exam rooms are available.

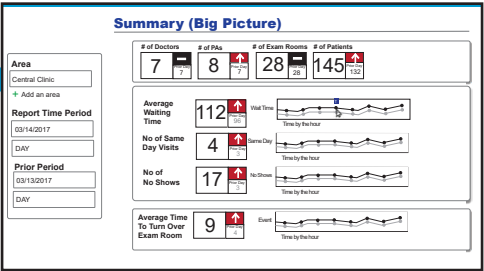

Workflow stations help streamline patient flow and staff requests. Doctors are notified about which patient to visit next and how many patients are waiting. The system can also track the length of time of each patient visit.

Assistance, emergency and other notification stations are available using both standard and customized wording. All stations are UL 1069 listed and can be used in all healthcare environments.

Patient call stations are available with either code blue or staff emergency options. Stations can accommodate call cords or pillow speakers for TV, lights and audio controls.

CliniCare’s analytical tools are designed to bring clarity to your clinical workflow and the patient care cycle.

Annunciators display report notifications, requests and emergency alerts. Additional notification lights can be placed throughout the clinic and outside of exam rooms for greater visibility.

History of Innovation

Every West-Com nurse call system includes a cost-effective upgrade path that maximizes the facility's investment. These upgrades include numerous West-Com innovations such as:

- Direct Request® - Pain Med and Bath Assist included on pillow speaker
- Multiple staff/wireless device assignments
- Electronic whiteboards displaying the status of exam rooms and patients
- Bath stations with an additional assistance button
- Workflow stations with provider and patient flow features
